Dear guests, colleagues, and participants!

With deep respect and sincere gratitude, we are pleased to welcome you to the 12th General Assembly of the Asia-Pacific Organization for Cancer Prevention, which will be held from September 19 to 21, 2024, under the title “Uniting Against Cancer – Strategies and Solutions.” Undoubtedly, meetings of this scale not only demonstrate our shared commitment to the fight against cancer but also reflect our unity in striving for innovation and advancement in the field of oncology.

We will come together with a common goal - to minimize the threat of cancer to society. Each of you has a critical role to play in our ongoing pursuit of this goal. Your research, knowledge, clinical experience, and innovative approaches will be the cornerstone in the fight against this disease.

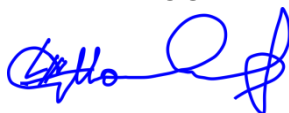

The importance of the upcoming event cannot be overestimated. This will be a time to share knowledge, experiences, ideas, and best practices. Our discussions and collaborative efforts at the Assembly will help develop innovative solutions and strategies that will represent significant advances in cancer prevention and treatment.

We encourage each of you to take advantage of this unique opportunity to collaborate, share and be inspired at the upcoming event. Let's join our efforts to bring real change and give hope to millions of people around the world. We are confident that together we can make significant strides in the fight against cancer.

We wish all participants fruitful work, new discoveries and successful cooperation at the upcoming event. Important discussions and decisions lie ahead. We are confident that our work together will have a lasting, positive impact on the global fight against cancer.

We thank you for your unwavering commitment and dedication to our common cause. As we look ahead to our upcoming event, we greatly appreciate your dedication and efforts to achieve our shared goals in the fight against cancer.

The I.K. Akhunbaev Kyrgyz State Medical Academy (KSMA) was founded in 1939 and is the leading medical university in the Kyrgyz Republic. The Academy is named after the outstanding surgeon Isa Akhunbaev, who made a significant contribution to the development of medicine in Kyrgyzstan.

KSMA offers a range of programs, including General Medicine, Pediatrics, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Public Health, Nursing, Medical Engineering, and Military Medicine that was introduced this year. Instruction is available in Russian, Kyrgyz, and English.

The Medical Academy is equipped with modern educational and material-technical facilities, as well as centers for professional development and conducting scientific research.

Throughout its existence, the academy has trained over 45,000 doctors, continuing to actively develop and improve the quality of medical education in the region.

According to the Global Aggregated Ranking for 2022, our Academy was ranked among the top 100 universities in the world, secured first place in the Independent University Ranking of Kyrgyzstan for 2022, and achieved the same position in the National Ranking of Kyrgyzstan based on the Hirsch Index for 2023. In the published ranking of all universities in Kyrgyzstan for 2024, the Kyrgyz State Medical Academy took first place.

The Medical Academy continues to strengthen its international connections. This includes attracting students from various countries, participating in international scientific projects and conferences, which fosters the exchange of knowledge and best practices. Thanks to these efforts, the Kyrgyz State Medical Academy has become more integrated into the global medical community.

These achievements reflect the Academy's commitment to continuous improvement and innovation, as well as its ability to adapt to contemporary challenges in medical education and science.
